BUDGET FOR 1955-56—GENERAL DISCUSSION—continued.

Mr. SPEAKER.—We will now take up budget discussion. Not more than ten minutes will be allowed for each member. Sri M. Linganna.

Sri M. PALANIYAPPAN (Ulsoor).—Sir, yesterday, the Chair said that the ruling will be given today. . . .

Mr. SPEAKER.—I forgot to tell you. The ruling will be given tomorrow.

Sri M. LINGANNA (Nanjangud).—Sir, the Finance Minister has presented a Budget which is deficit to the tune of four crores and odd. Several speakers have spoken giving various reasons which have contributed to a Budget of this kind. In the Budget speech itself, the Finance Minister has referred to the inevitability of the Budget being deficit to the tune of four crores and odd. He has stated specifically that we are in the last year of the First Five-Year Plan and that we are on the threshold of launching the Second Five-Year Plan. He has further eloquently stated that when a State is launching plans after plans it would consume enormous funds of the State and that it would naturally result in a deficit budget. He also stated in his speech that for the nation-building activities large sums of moneys have been spent. The main reason advanced is that the First Five-Year Plan is coming to a close and the Second Five-Year Plan is about to begin. This may well seem for the first time a proper justification. On the other hand, when we look into the working of other departments and see this deficit Budget from the point of view of expenditure and also revenue, it seems as though the budgetary position is not so safe as one can laudably applaud.

3 P.M.

Because in the very budgetary position of this year we are seeing that there is a deficit and also that deficit
